FOREWORD

The court reorganization movement in North Carolina began in mid nineteen-fifties and culminated in the adoption of constitutional amendments in 1962 and 1965 and the enactment of the "Judicial Department Act of 1965." The year 1975 marks the fifth year during which all divisions of the General Court of Justice have operated in each of the State's 100 counties. The Judicial Department consists of an Appellate Division composed of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals (which has been fully operational since 1968), a Superior Court Division and a District Court Division. The system is unified for purposes of jurisdiction, operation and administration. All of the officers and personnel of the Judicial Department are employees of the State.

There are now 7 justices of the Supreme Court, 9 judges of the Court of Appeals, 55 full-time Superior Court judges, 126 District Court judges, 31 district attorneys and 134 assistant district attorneys, 5 public defenders and 25 assistant public defenders (serving in the 12th, 18th, 26th, 27th and 28th judicial districts), 100 clerks of the superior court, approximately 540 magistrates, approximately 230 juvenile counselors, 76 court reporters and approximately 1,300 supporting personnel (primarily assistants, deputies, secretarial and clerical personnel in the offices of clerks of the superior court).

The Administrative Officer of the Courts is required to "submit an annual report on the work of the Judicial Department" to the Chief Justice and the members of the General Assembly. This Annual Report is based upon data supplied by the clerks of the superior court on a monthly and quarterly basis. The data contained herein can most appropriately be used in making year-to-year comparisons for the entire system and in comparing the performance of different counties and judicial districts. The data is also the beginning point for independent analysis of the performance of the courts of each county and judicial district. Although caution should be used in generalizing about the performance of the entire General Court of Justice, this report does evaluate the status of the criminal and civil dockets of the Superior and District Court divisions. These evaluations are carefully grounded on the available data base, but they derive from quantitative rather than qualitative data and are based upon totals for groups of counties rather than a thoroughgoing analysis of each county.

Although there are a number of statistical indicators that may be used in evaluating court performance, there is no single barometer that gives a weighted average of all factors. The more obvious factors to weigh in making year-to-year comparisons and relative ranking between counties and judicial districts are filings, dispositions, and the number of cases pending at the end of the year. Other useful measures are the pending ratios (the relation that the number of cases pending at year's end bears to the number of cases disposed of during the year) and the rate of disposition (the percentage of the year's filings which were disposed of during the year). Low pending ratios and high rates of disposition are positive measures.

The statistics contained herein are case flow statistics and none are "backlog" or "delay" statistics. This report uses "cases pending" as one unit of analysis, but the term "backlog" will not be found herein and it is inaccurate to apply that term to the cases which are properly described as "pending." A case which is pending may be two days or two years old. "Backlog" may be tentatively defined as those cases which have been pending disposition longer than an agreed upon standard of time for the average case of the same type in the same court. A "delayed" case would be any case which exceeded the agreed upon standard time-frame and such cases could also be described as "backlogged." Even if an agreed upon standard time-frame with supporting data was available, such data could only properly be used (as is the case with the data which is available) as a starting point for analysis. In any case, the Administrative Office does not now routinely collect data on the length of time required for the disposition of particular cases.

Whatever the unit of analysis, whether "cases pending," "delayed cases," or "pending ratios," a number of questions must be asked once the raw data is available. At what point in time is the data stated? Cases pending, for example, are stated as of December 31, 1975; are they generally higher during a holiday season? What effect do the customs and practices of the local bar have upon courtroom and trial delays? What are the policies of the court, the bar, and district attorneys with respect to continuances? Is there a well thought out system for the calendaring of cases? Are pre-trial release procedures working effectively? Is the waiver procedure for motor vehicle cases fully utilized? Are continuances caused by court congestion or are they sought after by the parties? What effect do sentencing practices have upon the rate of criminal appeals between the District and Superior Courts? How much court was held in the district and how often? (In some counties there are no more than two weeks of Superior Court each year.) What are the geographical dimensions of the judicial district? Are seats of court distant from one another, requiring a great deal of travel time by court officials? Are there sufficient courtrooms available when needed? Are the courtrooms located and designed so as to permit efficient dispatch of the court's business? How many cases counted as "pending" are essentially "dead" cases and will ultimately be nol prosed or dismissed? (It may in fact be customary strategy to file a civil action knowing at the time that the case will never be tried; similarly, it may be a good strategy for the district attorney not to nol pros a case, although knowing that it will likely not be tried.) What is the extent of plea bargaining in the district? What is the settlement rate in the district? Has there been any illness among court officials? Are there adequate investigatory resources? Are law enforcement and expert witnesses available when needed? The above list is not exhaustive but is illustrative of the types of questions that must be explored in analyzing the statistical data for each county and district.

The purpose of this foreword has not been to denigrate the statistical data report herein, but to stress the subtlety and complexity of the variables which they reflect. All quantitative data must be read with care and this is especially true of court statistics. Too great a reliance on numbers alone give credence to the concept of "mass justice." Court officials know that justice is administered to individuals.

As this report is being prepared, action is underway to revise the system of data reporting by the clerks of superior court to the Administrative Office of the Courts. The system contemplated will provide more concrete data on actual case backlogs and on the time that cases are pending in the trial courts. The revised system will not be in effect for a sufficient period of time in 1976 to be fully reflected in the annual report for that year. However, an improved system of data reporting should be evident in the annual report on calendar year 1977.

October 1976

NORTH CAROLINA JUDICIAL DIVISIONS AND DISTRICTS

The State is divided into four judicial divisions and thirty judicial districts. Regular superior court judges are rotated from district to district of the division in which they reside. District court judges are rotated from county to county in the district in which they reside.

THE APPELLATE DIVISION THE SUPREME COURT

One hundred and thirty-six opinions were filed by the Supreme Court in 1975. Of the total, 56 were civil and 80 were criminal cases. Sixty-two percent (35 opinions) of the civil appeals were affirmed and 72 percent (58 opinions) of the criminal appeals were affirmed. In the remaining cases, the Supreme Court modified the decision from which the appeal was taken. As reported in the North Carolina Reports, the court disposed of 274 petitions for certiorari, 12 motions to dismiss, 7 motions to rehear.

THE SUPERIOR COURT DIVISION

The performance of the superior court division of the General Court of Justice is adequately summarized in the sections on civil and criminal dockets which follow. Only a few items deserve highlighting in terms of the combined civil and criminal dockets. Total filings increased by 13.6% and dispositions increased by 15.5%. The number of cases pending at the end of the year increased by 8.9%.

The number of days of court scheduled increased from 9,846 to 11,525, an increase of 17%, but the number of days actually held increased by 1,380 days (17.8%) from 7,763 to 9,143. For all 100 counties, the percentage of court utilization rose from 78.8% to 79.3%.

The pending ratio for the civil division of 165.0 is greater than for last year, indicating that it would require approximately one year and eight months for the court to dispose of all civil cases pending. The comparable figure for the criminal division is approximately four months, down from four and one-half months in 1974.

The Clerk of the Superior Court has significant jurisdiction in the administration of estates and special proceedings.

SUPERIOR COURT CIVIL DOCKETS

As has been indicated in this space in recent years, there continues to be room for much improvement in the civil division of the superior court. This year, a favorable increase in dispositions of 5.2% is overshadowed by a large increase in filings of 8.5%. The number of cases pending at the end of the year increased by 12.7%.

For the third time in the last nine years, the number of cases filed has exceeded the number of cases disposed of and the number of cases pending at the end of the year has shown an increase from the prior year. The relation, in percentage terms, of dispositions to filings has changed from 87.1% in 1974 to 84.4% in 1975. As has always been the case, the pending ratio for this division is higher than for any other division of the General Court of Justice. The pending ratio for this year (165.0) is greater than for last year (154.3). This ratio indicates that it would require approximately one year and eight months for the superior courts to dispose of all civil cases pending.

There was a substantial increase in the number of days of civil court held this year, from 2,673 to 3,160. The percentage of court utilization was little changed, decreasing from 73.9% to 73.1%.

Among all 100 counties, the 10 counties with the largest civil dockets accounted for 55.3% of the total pending cases. Sixty-seven counties had 100 or fewer cases pending and only six counties had more than 500 pending.

SUPERIOR COURT CRIMINAL DOCKETS

Filings increased in 1975 by 6,877 cases (14.7%) over the previous year. Dispositions increased by 17.6%. Because of the substantially improved rate of dispositions, as compared with the previous year, the rate of increase in the number of year-end pending cases was significantly lower—5.8% in 1975 as compared with 13.4% in 1974.

The rate of dispositions (the number of dispositions relative to the number of filings) for 1975 is 98.2% compared with 95.9% in 1974. The pending ratio (the number of cases pending relative to the number of dispositions) dropped from 36.5 in 1974 to 32.9 in 1975, indicating (all other things being equal) that the estimated amount of time for the court to dispose of all criminal cases pending has decreased from almost four and one-half months to less than four months.

The number of days of superior court scheduled increased from 6,224 to 7,200½ or 15.7%, and the number of days held increased from 5,086½ to 5,983, an increase of 896½ days or 17.6%. This increase compares with increases of .8% in 1974, 2.2% in 1973, and 9.3% in 1972.

For the third consecutive year since the district court has been operating in all 100 counties of the State, misdemeanors have constituted less than one-half of superior court filings. In prior years, there were always more misdemeanors than felonies on the superior court docket. This year, misdemeanors constituted 42.5% of filings (a decrease from 44.8%) and felonies made up 57.5% (an increase from 55.2%).

It continues to be the situation that a relatively small proportion of the criminal cases in the superior courts are disposed of by jury trial. Of the 52,551 cases that were disposed of in 1975, only 3,626 (6.9%), followed a not-guilty plea for which a jury was impaneled. This compares with 3,524 (7.9%) in 1974. The largest percentage of cases were disposed of by guilty pleas (26,835 or 51.1%, up from 22,879 or 50.1% in 1974); and the remaining cases—22,090 or 42.0%, up from 18,797 or 42.0% in 1974—were disposed of by other means.

The ten counties with the largest criminal dockets accounted for 39.6% of the total cases pending at the end of the year. Forty-six counties had 100 or fewer cases pending at the end of the year, and only eight counties had more than 500 cases pending.

In the order named, Mecklenburg, Guilford, Wake, Forsyth and Cumberland had the largest number of cases filed in 1975. Among all the counties that exceeded the statewide mean (535) for filings, the following counties had the largest percentage increases in filings between 1974 and 1975: Catawba (63.4%), Mecklenburg (56.7%), Lenoir (46.2%) Pitt (46.2%), Cleveland (43.7%), Gaston (39.5%), Surry (39.3%), Randolph (37.9%).

Mecklenburg County disposed of the most cases in 1975, followed in order by Wake, Forsyth, Guilford and Cumberland. Among the counties that exceeded the statewide mean for dispositions, the following counties made the most significant increases over 1974: Gaston (295.5%), Cleveland (66.7%), Forsyth (47.3%), Nash (40.0%), and Catawba (38.2%).

The highest number of jury trials, 265, was held in Mecklenburg in 1975; Durham held 176, Wake held 154, New Hanover held 126, and Cumberland held 119. Mecklenburg led the State in the number of days of criminal court held (510), followed by Wake (413½), Cumberland (296½), Durham (251), and Guilford (246½).

The 1971 Annual Report utilized pending ratios as a barometer of court performance for the first time. As already indicated, the pending ratio for 1975 is 32.9, suggesting that it would require about four months to dispose of all cases pending. The pending ratio, of course, varies from county to county, and it is useful to apply that test to each county. The table at page 23 lists the ten counties with the highest pending ratios.

THE DISTRICT COURT DIVISION

The total of civil and criminal filings in this division increased by 3.6% and total dispositions increased by 5.2%. The larger increases were experienced in the civil division. There has been an increase from last year in the ratio between criminal cases pending at the end of the year and dispositions for the year. The ratio for criminal cases is 11.0 indicating that it would require about 6 weeks for the district court to dispose of its criminal docket (up from 5 weeks last year). The ratio for civil cases decreased from 35.9 to 35.2, the estimated time needed to dispose of all civil cases decreasing from about four months and three weeks to about four months and two weeks.

The total number of days of district court held in 1975 increased by 8.4% over 1974, the number of civil days increasing from 6,018½ to 6,673½ and the number of criminal days increasing from 11,193 to 11,979. Upon assignment by the Chief Justice district court judges held 237½ days of court in judicial districts other than their own, down from 244 such days in 1974.

The tables relating to juvenile proceedings are found on pages 65 and 78. The number of new cases opened (children before the court for the first time) decreased from 15,504 to 13,190 or 14.9%. The number of adjudicatory hearings decreased from 28,830 to 27,131 or 6.3%. The composition of the caseload varies little from year to year: delinquency accounted for 59.6%, undisciplined for 21.3%, dependency for 9.3%, and neglect for 9.8%. The bulk of delinquency charges were for misdemeanors (59.0%), 23.7% were for non-capital felonies, 17.1% were for violations of probation, and .2% were for capital felonies. The only increase from last year was in the dependent category. Allegations of dependency increased 4.5% and dependency hearings increased by 8.4%. On the other hand, allegations of neglect decreased by 4.5% while neglect hearings increased by 12.3%.

DISTRICT COURT CIVIL DOCKETS

Civil filings have again increased, 7.6% compared with an 18.9% increase last year. The change in the small claim jurisdiction of magistrates from $300 to $500 (effective July 1, 1974) resulted in an 8.5% increase in small claim filings, whereas domestic filings increased by only 17% and other civil actions decreased by .9%. The rate of disposition was 96.9% (fewer cases were disposed of than were filed).

Among all 100 counties, the 10 counties with the largest civil dockets accounted for 59.2% of the total civil cases pending. Forty-nine counties had 300 or fewer cases pending at the end of the year and 14 counties had more than 1,000 pending. As stated above, the ratio of pending cases to the year's dispositions is 35.2, indicating that the docket could be disposed of in about four and one-half months.

Of the 219,428 cases filed in 1975, 68.0% were small claims, 14.0% were domestic cases, and 18.0% were regular civil actions in which a hearing before a district court judge was requested. Of the 212,600 cases which were disposed of, 18.0% were handled by a judge without a jury, a jury was impaneled in .29% of the cases, magistrates disposed of 66.0%, and the remaining 14.71% were disposed of by other means. It is notable that jury cases dropped by more than one-third from 1974. In 1974, a jury was impaneled in 962 cases; this year a jury was impaneled in only 608 cases.

When the plaintiff so requests, claims for $500 or less are subject to assignment to a magistrate. Magistrates continue to dispose of almost all of these small claims. In 1975, magistrates disposed of 95.8% of such claims.

DISTRICT COURT CRIMINAL DOCKETS

Criminal filings were up from 1,089,512 in 1974 to 1,121,028 in 1975, an increase of 5.9%. Dispositions increased from 1,066,712 to 1,109,759, up 4.2%. The number of cases pending at the end of the year increased by 11,269 to 122,701, up 10.1%.

For the third year, both filings and dispositions in the criminal division have exceeded one million cases. Thirty-six of the 100 counties had more than 1,000 cases pending at the end of the year and 29 counties had 300 or fewer pending. The 10 counties with the largest criminal dockets accounted for 46.7% of the total number of criminal cases pending. The rate of disposition was 99.0%.

From year to year, the percentage breakdown for the types of cases handled and the manner of dispositions remains fairly constant. In 1974, 64.0% (717,208) of all criminal cases filed were for violations of the traffic laws. Other criminal offenses made up the remaining 36.0% (403,820). Only 9.4% of the cases disposed of were contested, requiring a full-fledged trial before a district court judge. A judge or magistrate disposed of 26.3% upon a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and 43.2% were disposed of by a written appearance waiving trial and pleading guilty before a magistrate or clerk. Preliminary hearings constituted 2.6% of the criminal docket and the remaining 18.6% of total dispositions were terminated by other means.

Since mid-1971 the uniform traffic ticket and complaint has been in use by all law enforcement officials; the ticket contains detailed instructions on the use of the waiver procedure. In 1970, 63.0% of motor vehicle cases were disposed of by waiver; in 1971, 65.7%; in 1972, 69.4%; in 1973, 69.6%; in 1974, 67.7%; and in 1975, 66.8%.

All statistical measures continue to indicate overall satisfactory performance with criminal cases by the district court division. As already indicated, the ratio of criminal cases pending at the end of the year to dispositions for the year is 11.0. This ratio indicates that it would require about 6 weeks for the district courts to dispose of pending criminal cases.

1. Includes cases tried before a District Court Judge upon a plea of not guilty.

2. Includes cases tried before a District Court Judge upon a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and cases tried before a Magistrate upon a plea of guilty. The Magistrates' authority to accept guilty pleas and enter judgment is limited to misdemeanor cases, other than traffic offenses, in which the maximum punishment cannot exceed imprisonment for thirty days, or a fine of $50 (G.S. 7A-273).

3. Includes traffic cases in which a written appearance waiving trial and pleading guilty is submitted to a Clerk of Superior Court or Magistrate.

* The date in all columns but the last indicates the total number of offenses alleged to have been committed and conditions alleged to have existed during the year. This date does not indicate the actual number of children before the court, since one petition may include several offenses or conditions and more than one petition may have been filed against a child during the year.

The last column, entitled "Children Before Court for First Time," is included here for convenience of format, but it is not otherwise related to the data in the other columns. This column does indicate the actual number of children in all categories or jurisdiction who were before the court for the first time during 1975.

* This table indicates the total number of adjudicatory hearings held in each category of juvenile jurisdiction during the year. Juvenile petitions may be dismissed either for failure to prove that the child is delinquent, undisciplined or neglected or, if he is found to be so, because the child is not in need of the care, protection or discipline of the State. All cases dismissed for either of these reasons are counted in the "dismissed" column; all other cases are counted in the "retained" column.

1. In some counties, the percent of cases disposed of exceeds one hundred percent because cases pending January 1, 1975 are not included in the "filed" column. The figures in both the "filed" and "disposed of" columns are for the calendar year 1975. Some of the cases filed in 1975 will not be disposed of until 1976 and some of the cases disposed of in 1975 were filed in 1974. Assuming a fairly constant rate of filing and disposition, the percentages are relatively accurate.

* These two tables are combined for convenience of format; they are not otherwise related.

1. In some counties, the percent of cases disposed of exceeds one hundred percent because cases pending January 1, 1975 are not included in the "filed" column. The figures in both the "filed" and "disposed of" columns are for the calendar year 1975. Some of the cases filed in 1975 will not be disposed of until 1976 and some of the cases disposed of in 1975 were filed in 1974. Assuming a fairly constant rate of filing and disposition, the percentages are relatively accurate.

REPRESENTATION OF INDIGENTS

In 27 of the State's judicial districts, indigent defendants were represented exclusively by appointed private counsel. In three districts, the 12th, 18th, and 28th (Cumberland and Hoke, Guilford, and Buncombe Counties), indigents were usually represented by a public defender's office.*

The costs of the entire program rose from $3,838,832.27 in the 1973-74 fiscal year to $5,029,018.62 in the 1974-75 fiscal year, an increase of 31.0%. The program constituted 12.8% of total judicial Department expenditures in 1974-75. The cost of the program in 1974-75 is summarized as follows:

Assigned Counsel in Criminal Cases	$3,763,697.78
Assigned Counsel in Commitment Cases	368,747.24
Assigned Counsel in Juvenile Cases	149,180.05
Total	$4,281,625.07
Public Counsel, Mental Hospitals	96,534.08
Public Defender's Office
12th Judicial District	142,216.56
18th Judicial District	213,354.71
28th Judicial District	98,967.79
Total	454,539.06
Transcripts, Records and Briefs	194,707.61
Expert Witness Fees	1,612.80
TOTAL	$4,932,484.54

The table at the end of this section compares the assigned counsel program in 1973-74 and 1974-75. The total number of cases rose from 29,117 to 32,423 or 11.3%, and expenditures rose from $3,807,340 to $4,281,625, or 29.4%. The largest portion of this increase was for assigned counsel in criminal cases. An additional 6,166 criminal cases were handled under this program at an additional cost of $1,105,865.98, or an increase of 41.6% over the previous year. The cost increase for assigned counsel in juvenile cases was considerably more modest, $15,184.53 (11.3%). There was a significant decrease in the cost of assigned counsel for commitments: $146,715.23, or a 28.5% decrease. There were 3,171 fewer commitment cases having assigned counsel.

Payments for assigned counsel in criminal cases accounted for 87.9% of total expenditures for assigned counsel; commitment case payments accounted for 8.6% and juvenile case payments for 3.5%.

The total cost of providing counsel to indigents in the three districts with public defenders was as follows:

	12th District	18th District	28th District
Public Defender	$142,216	$213,346	$ 98,968
Assigned Counsel	85,260	54,295	15,394
TOTAL	$227,476	$267,641	$114,362

These costs may be compared with the costs of assigned counsel in other urban areas: 10th District (Wake) $296,187; 14th District (Durham) $215,731; 21st District (Forsyth) $208,291; and 26th District (Mecklenburg) $363,870.

When private counsel or the public defender is assigned to represent an indigent, the court sets the money value of services rendered and enters judgment against the defendant for such amount. Receipts from payments on these judgments rose from $116,653.05 in 1973-74 to $154,614.60 in 1974-75. Receipts in 1974-75 amounted to 3.0% of the total cost of the indigent defendant program.
